

Ellery's Par Excellence

Jaydon Ellery broke through for a deserving victory, with a score of plus 5, to win the Life Members' Par event last Saturday. Ellery has made good progress refining his swing for the small white ball and has the potential to improve further on his handicap reduction. Colin Giblett and Alan Kent also played impressively with both recording plus 4 to finish in the top three of the 42 man field.

Bryan Simpson continues to play good golf, coming in with plus 3, followed by Greg Moyle, Stephen Edwards, Brian Banks and Trevor Lawrence, who all played to the CCR with a score of plus 2.

Garry Dawson continued the amazing run of eagles of late when he holed his second shot on the twelfth hole.

Rhonda McGill enjoyed her first attempt at Saturday golf to top the ladies' field of seven. Her score of plus 4 was enough to dethrone Michelle Tate, after she turned in a score of square.

Novelties were claimed by Peter Walsh, Peter Gray and Ron Annandale for nearest the pins. Trevor Lawrence and Jaydon Ellery won long putts and Ellery took long drive honours with a monster down 15.

Anzac Day provided a perfect day weather wise and once again the Diggers Day event attracted a good field of 41 players.

Ed Riley managed to top the 'Diggers' list on the day with 35 points, just eclipsing Alf Sanford (34), in the battle for the much sought after 'diggers shovel'. John and Barbara Wray have been long time sponsors of the event and also provided a reward for the 'Others'. Dean Rakich compiled 41 points for a two point win over Neil Motion with 39 points. Steve Ireland and Chris Connell were next on 38 points.

Ray McGill scored a healthy 24 points for a win in the Mulligan Scroungers event last week. 'Macca' was obviously inspired by father Les getting all the mentions in last week's write up, so much so he also won the gross. Eric Annandale, Graham Williams and Ed Riley also enjoyed the forgiving nature of the game to tally 23 points each. Hugh Annandale (22), Steve Ireland (22), Alan Banks (21) and Alex Bayley (21) rounded out the vouchers. In a repeat of last week's Barker-May family double, Rhonda McGill won the ladies event with 22 points. Betty White was next with 19 points

Jeff Crowe had a day out, scoring 33 points to win the Veterans event last week. John Wray (29), Ross Brody (27), George Davis (27) and Steve Farquhar (27) made up the top five in the good field of 23 players.

Novelties were won Frank Battista, Alf Sanford and Jim Hine.

Greg Martin played some impressive and powerful golf to tally 41 points for a well earned victory in the Leisure Day event. Trevor McCormick and Jim Lee followed on 37 points.

The winter season is commencing this week with the Bushwalkers fourball Stableford event. The first individual event following will start the Eclectic and Five point competitions. Make sure you get your Eclectic nomination in before it closes.

Scroungers is on today. Tuesday is Vets and Leisure Day.
