

BROADBENT BAGS BRIDGESTONE EVENT

David Broadbent has reason to 'toot the train horn' this week after a count back victory in the Bridgestone Tyres Stableford event at the Collie Golf Club last Saturday. Big 'Broady' has been knocking on the door of late and finally broke through for a well deserved win, relishing the early morning conditions in posting a healthy 41 points. 'Broady' was joined on 41 points by Boyup Brook visitor Maurice Louisson. Louisson has the record of two visits to the club for two trophies, continuing the good run for the travellers throughout the summer season.

Denis Cocker won the trophy for third place on 40 points after an excellent week on the fairways. Kalev Kutt, Greg Bell, Jaydon Ellery, Graeme Jackson and Ross Davidson, who had a remarkable turnaround in the space of the week, were all rewarded on 39 points. Then followed the 'angry ant' Eric Annandale, Alf Sanford and Mick Finlay on 38 points.

The Captain generously paid out on 37 points due to the bumper field of 77 players, with the fortunate golfers being Jim Moyses, Mark Malatesta, Rory Cowan, Chris Stewart, Barry Creighton and Mark Sugget.

Two of the most consistent club members topped the ladies event. Shelley Barker-May was the winner with 36 points and Bev Moyses next on 34 points.

Nearest the pins went to Deb Van Vollenstee, Greg Martin and Maurice Louisson. The long putts were claimed by D Studsor and Phil Eldridge and the long drive was won by Ron Crabbe.

Kalev Kutt, who is making the most of his laidback lifestyle at the minute, claimed the summer season closer in Scroungers last Thursday. Kutt tallied 23 points for a one point win over George Davis on 22 points. Barry Creighton kept his cool to be one of a trio of players on 21 points. The others were Denis Cocker, who also had the best gross score, and Mick Finlay. Rod Simmonds, Wayne Waywood, Jaydon Ellery, Rob Cavanagh, Kevin Ireland, George Dorozenko, Phil Eldridge and Jim Moyses filled the other top positions in the field of 64.

Annette Atherton topped the ladies list with 21 points, from Bev Moyses and Betty White on 18 points.

Eric Annandale took out the Vets competition last week with 32 points in the 14 hole competition. Greg Little on 31 and George Davis with 30 points made up the top three in the field of 25 players.

Jim Lee made it a hat trick of wins in the Leisure Day competition. He posted 39 points to win on a count back from Denis Cocker on the same score and Kalev Kutt on 38 points.

Two events are scheduled for the Easter weekend. On Saturday there will be an 18 hole
