

GOLFING BLISS FOR CHRIS

Local golfer, Chris Bliss won the Malatesta Brothers Par Trophy held last Saturday, with the very good score of +8. It was a popular win by the big hitting eagle as it was quite some time since he last saluted the judge. In second place, on the same score, by way of a countback was Jed Casserley of Boyup Brook, followed closely behind on +7 by the ever consistent Greg Bell in third place. Alan Banks and Joe Italiano both played well to finish on +4, as did Hugh Annandale, Alan Casserley and Phil Warburton all on +3. Rounding out the vouchers on +2 were Mark Sugget, Ian Purse, Simon Purse and John Wray.

Best for the Associates was the consistent Nancy Lynn on +1 who won the trophy from runner up Rhonda McGill who finished all square.

Novelty nearest the pins went to Trizzie Lawrence (No. 4), Nancy Lynn (No.7) and Ian Tweedie (No.14). Longest first putts went to Ross Brody (No. 6) and Jed Casserley (No.18) while the long drive on No.15 was won by Paul Woolstencroft.

David Laird compiled the good score of 23 points to be the best Scrounger last Thursday. David also took out the gross honours with 16 points. In second place, also with a good score of 22 points was Harry Hadfield, followed by Bruce Miller on 19 points and Mike Daley on 18 points.

Nancy Lynn won on countback from Gwen Tanian in the Associates' Scroungers competition. Both ladies returned 18 points.

Novelties were won by Dave Broadbent (No.6) and Dave Brunswick (No.9).

The 14 hole Veterans Competition was won last week by Ross Brody, scoring 27 points, over John Wray with 26 points. Next came Peter Gray and Ed Riley.

Novelties were won by John Wray (No.4), Ernie Sullivan (No.6), Ross Brody (No.9) and Peter Gray (No.18).

There was no Leisure Day Competition last week.

Joe Italiano won Sunday's Scroungers Competition with 21 points over Des Hebb and Steven Ireland, each having 20 points.

This weekend, the annual Riverside Open Tournament will be held, starting with the Dorsett Family sponsored 4 Ball event on Friday, followed by the Wesfarmers Premier Coal and Coverley Family sponsored Riverside Stroke event over Saturday and Sunday. Local hopes include low markers Leon Moran and Chris Stewart as well as the very consistent Greg Bell in the Gross section while in the Nett section, the wily and skilful Phil Warburton, the consistent Mike Daley, long hitting and astute short gamer Clayton Flynn and X factor David Laird will provide a bold showing.

No Sunday Scroungers this weekend but Thursday Scroungers as usual today with Vets and Leisure Day next Tuesday.
